What has happened over the last year?

What has happened over the past year?

Impact of the pandemic:

- Reduced exclusions during autumn and spring term, but returning to pre-COVID levels
- Changes to practices in schools have sometimes been beneficial
- Increased prevalence of poor mental health
- Support services – more remote working
- Increase in elective home education in at start of school year
- Disruption to education and attendance

What has happened over the past year?

Written statement of action

- Improved performance of EHC needs assessments – but not a magic bullet!
- Inclusive schools strands, including:
 - School-led inclusion enquiry – better understanding of challenges and good practice
 - Area-based partnership working
 - Strengthening SEND in schools through Whole Education programme
 - Review of Early Help offer

The way forward

- Focus on engagement rather than exclusion – children missing out on education
- Focus on vulnerable learners – extending the role of virtual school
- Focus on locality inclusion partnerships – joined up approach to identifying and supporting vulnerable learners
- Accountability for funding and graduated response
- Focus on working together creatively to find better solutions
